Course Description:

This Course provides the final experience for students concentrating in marketing. Using the case study approach, students integrate their knowledge from previous marketing courses and develop analytical and interpretive skills necessary for strategic and tactical decision-making. Marketing decisions are considered and students undertake a project as a major component of the course.

Prerequisite: MKT 5200, MGT 5210

Aims and Objectives:

This Course provides the detailed application of the basics of Marketing principles at the strategic, planning and execution stage. The Course not only focuses on the basic metrics used in marketing but also the development and planning of marketing strategies by organisations. It seeks to bring together the students previous learning in the subject area and expand it to the actual conceptualisation and execution of viable and dynamic marketing plans and projects. It also presents the latest developments in strategic thinking.
