Course Description: This course introduces student to the basic principles of breathing, relaxation, vocal techniques and the oral interpretations of play texts and poetry. Students will explore the fundamentals of speaking in front of an audience. Drama games, storytelling, role-playing, playwriting and improvisation are used to explore the basic tenets of performance, with a specific focus on training the actor's voice for performance.

Prerequisites: none

Aims and Objectives: This aim of this course is to introduce students to the basic skills needed to be able to perform in public. Students will be exposed to a variety of techniques and the practice of vocal interpretations of contemporary and classical texts. Much of the course involves practical work such as concentration, physical, vocal and improvisational exercises in the development of the creative imagination for performance. Storytelling, speaking poetry, acting from a range of poetical and prose texts and development of different interpretations will all be explored through class exercises, individual and group projects.

Programme Outcomes: 3A(i); 3B(i); 3B(ii); 3C(i); 3D(i)
